We'll call my psychiatrist friend and have her help bring Amanda back." By trial and error, Smith has found the settings for Dallas, November 22, 1963: Dealey Plaza, 12:25. "Can you stay alive if you get regular transfusions?" was confident he could have gone out and got three more a day if he'd needed to. He was off the hook.. The scene outside was deceptively quiet as Colman lifted a flap and peered out, keeping his head well back from the edge of the canopy. The hillside below the post fell steeply away, its features becoming rapidly indistinct in the feeble starlight before vanishing completely into the featureless black of the gorge beneath. There was no moon, and the sky was clear as crystal. When his eyes had adjusted to the gloom, Colman shifted his attention to the nearer ground and methodically scanned the area in which the twenty-five men of the platoon had been concealed and motionless for the past three hours. If they had undercut their foxholes and weapons pits the way he had shown them and made proper use of the rocks and vegetation, they would stand a good chance of escaping detection. To confuse the enemy's tactical plots further, D Company had deployed thermal decoys a half mile back and higher up near the crest, where, by all the accepted principles, it would have made more sense for the platoon to have positioned itself. Auto timed to turn on and off in a random sequence to simulate movement, the decoys had been drawing sporadic fire for much of the night while the platoon had drawn none, which seemed to say something about the value of "the book" as rewritten by Staff Sergeant Colman. "There are two ways to do anything," he told the recruits. "The Army way and the wrong way. There isn't any other way. So when I tell you to do something the Army way, what does it mean? ". He gave me a cheerful, if slightly strained, smile. "Oh, sure. I'm all right I'll be fine in the morning." It was impossible to answer with ice in my chest. There is no sign of anything wrong? no explosion, no fire, no trace of violence. When he looks up again, he sees the sails flapping, then bellying out full. Hie sea is rising. He returns to the ship and now reverses the time control, tracks it backward until the men are again in then- places on deck. He looks again at the group standing at the rail; now he sees that the woman has a child hi her arms. The child struggles, drops over the rail. Smith hears the woman shriek. In a moment she too is over the rail and falling into the sea. "Why not try this place?" Marvin Kolodny handed Barry a printed card, which read: my stun console a run-through.. "No, no, no, no."
